To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of reference for Miss Rebekah Maurice, whom I have known for the past two years as a student leader in several capacities on the campus of Canadian University College (soon to be Burman University) where I serve as chaplain.

In interacting with and observing Rebekah, I have found her to be a very capable and reliable leader and worker. As Campus Ministries Director during my first year as chaplain, she was extremely helpful in assisting me in the work of administration of the leadership team, as well as organising several events for the campus community. She works very well in a team setting, but is also highly motivated when working independently, taking initiative and being conscientious about completing tasks assigned to her.

Rebekah also shows a high level of creativity, particularly in the area of communications and visual media. She was responsible for the design of numerous print advertisements for Campus Ministries events, as well as the print media for a national denominational youth event last summer, all of which were well-designed and appealing. As editor of the school newspaper this past year, Rebekah has truly demonstrated her abilities as a communicator, having re-designed the newspaper both in terms of layout and content, all of which has been received very favourably by students, staff, and administration alike. She seeks to do her very best and, while very capable on her own, is not afraid to seek input and feedback, all of which she takes into serious consideration in her work. Rebekah puts a great deal of thought into all that she does, which is evident in the quality of her leadership and the work she produces.

I have no reservations in saying that Rebekah will be a strong asset to any team she is part of, and am confident that she will be successful at whatever tasks or roles she is assigned.

Thank you for your consideration of my reference. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any further questions; I can be reached at the contact information below.

Sincerely,
